HOW IT WORKS

Support and empower children with disabilities by giving them an opportunity to give back to their community. This program provides the children with teddy bears and notecards to be decorated and delivered to those they believe could benefit from a kind gesture and some comfort. As a result, the children who are so often on the receiving end of goodwill are able to do the same for others and pay it forward. In spite of any challenges they face on a daily basis, the children learn that they can still make a meaningful contribution to society which has a huge impact on their self-esteem.
